A South African story. Made personal.

Founded in June 1999 by Armand du Preez, Furnworld International is a South African family business with a passion for distinctive full-grain and exotic leather furniture.

Its founding principles centre on quality leather, graded timber frames, skilled craftsmanship, lasting furniture and attentive service.

The Armand du Preez Collection brings that story into your home, with custom sizes and leather combinations tailored to your individual style.

Armand du Preez - a heritage in rugby and furniture.

From rugby to furniture.

QUOTE OF THE DAY

"The chief value of money lies in the fact that one lives in a world in which it is overestimated."
– H. L. Mencken, Journalist

Money & Careers

TIP OF THE DAY

"Money is usually attracted, not pursued."
– Jim Rohn, Entrepreneur

HOW I MADE IT: ARMAND DU PREEZ

From world of rugby to furniture

His prosperity comes from 'trusting God'

HE STARTED his furniture business 14 years ago with three rugby injuries, an overdraft of R120 000 and heaps of faith. Now his well-known business, Furnworld International, is exporting all over the globe and South Africa, doubling the businesses' turnover every year.

The sometimes controversial Ultenhage businessman Armand du Preez says he pays more in taxes every year than he would have ever made in a career as a professional rugby player and that is the reason why he is sometimes critical of the local government.

Du Preez played rugby for the Junior Springboks, SA Barbarians, Natal, EP and Lions all over the world before three rugby injuries stopped his professional career in its tracks.

"We have to be proactive and pray for our government. I will never emigrate because this is where God planted us to make a living," Du Preez says.

Having started two furniture shops in 2006 in Denver, Colorado, and buying a house there, Du Preez said he is considering closing the American shop and selling his house since the American market is very slow and credit-driven.

"I don't take risks that size, I do not believe in debt. My Ultenhage shop's building is paid-off and we have very few overheads. I spend close to R300 000 in advertising every month," Du Preez said.

Stock at his Ultenhage-based warehouse is delivered across South Africa and to neighbouring countries, with local transport contractors. From placing an order, it takes 48 hours to deliver the furniture to all the major cities in South Africa.

This and his dedication to sourcing quality material, Du Preez believes is the reason he is one of the biggest retailers of luxury, affordable leather furniture in South Africa.

Armand's tips for success:

- Trust God - His wisdom will guide your business decisions;
- Work hard - long hours will assure business success;
- Take smaller risks - do not try to go too big, too soon.
- Do not go into too much debt

"We have orders of between R300 000 and R700 000 per day country-wide. People fly in from across the country to buy the couches in our range and the Eastern Cape is only about 1% of my sales market," Du Preez said.

The businessman spends most mornings with his factory staff, overseeing the details of creating his exclusive range of leather and ostrich couches. All his designs are original and he sources wood from Ultenhage-based companies.

"I do not use any chip board in my frames.

"We use only Cloud 9 high density foam in all the couches and make use of Klein Karoo ostrich leather and other sources of A-grade leather.

"I have always loved beautiful furniture and my dad had a second-hand shop so this was just the natural business choice for me," Du Preez said.

Du Preez says he has a small profit margin, but a high turnover.

He said when he started his business, he made the mistake of sourcing furniture from everywhere, but soon had an entire room dedicated to complaints.

About a year after opening the shop, he opened the furniture factory – originally based in Port Elizabeth – to create his own, quality furniture.

"When people buy furniture, they expect it to last generations.

"Selling good quality furniture at affordable prices and offering good after-sales service is key to my business success," Du Preez says.

He also specialises in sales and after sales of electronics and computers.

"We start every day of the month in the shop with reading one of the 31 Proverbs in the Bible. This is what has helped my business to prosper – to trust God in everything I do," Du Preez says.

WELL PLANTED: Successful Ultenhage entrepreneur Armand du Preez in front of his business premises

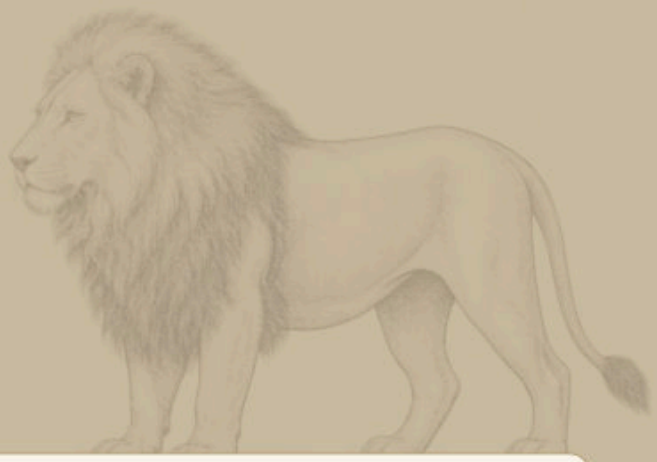

An archive feature from 16 September 2013 tells the story of Armand du Preez and the growth of Furnworld International.

"When people buy furniture, they expect it to last generations."
